The British Columbian.

NEW WESTMINSTER, SATURDAY, MAY 23, 1863.
OUR AGRICULTURAL PROSPERITY.

Few things have occurred to afford us more real satisfaction than the rapid extension of agricultural operations in this Colony, especially in the upper portion of it. During the last two years we have kept this branch of industry prominently before the public. We have urged upon the Government the duty of encouraging the settlement of our lands by locating main roads so as to intersect and open up these lands. We have labored to convince emigrants not only that there is abundance of good land in the country, but that farming is the most certain if not the most speedy mode of accumulating a fortune. In pursuing this course we were actuated by a pure and disinterested desire to promote at once the prosperity of the Colony and the material welfare of those who visit it.

We need hardly inform our readers that the return for all this has been anything but what such services might be fairly supposed to be entitled to. We have been laughed at for our pains, and our theories on agriculture ridiculed. Charged with wilfully misrepresenting the country, and that from selfish motives, we have been grossly misrepresented by men who, having been disappointed in their utopian expectations relative to the mines, became soured against the country and every thing in it, counting any man who would write or speak in its favor little less than a villain. But as it was not for the present approbation of men we wrote such considerations weighed lightly upon us, feeling confident, as we have always done, that the sequel would justify the course we have adopted and substantiate all we have written.

It cannot, therefore, but be peculiarly gratifying to us to witness the progressive realization of the expectations we have formed of the country as a profitable field for agricultural pursuits, and the certain prospect now opening up before this Colony of having a large rural population extending from the Gulf of Georgia to the very confines of Cariboo. So long as all our food, clothing &c., had to be purchased in a foreign market and transported at enormous expense to the gold fields the price of living would of necessity continue so high as to exclude many from the mines, and render it unremunerative to any except a few of the richest claim-holders; and while nearly all the produce of these mines was going out of the country to pay for importations this Colony could be little profited by the operation.

Now, however, everything is rapidly assuming a very different aspect. The breadth of land now under crop in the upper country promises an ample supply of such articles as are being raised. The articles of hay, barley and oats, used in large quantities for the support of from 6,000 to 8,000 pack animals, were formerly imported, and reached the most fabulous prices by the time they arrived at their destination. Now there will be sufficient grown almost on the spot to meet the demand. Trains were compelled formerly to carry a supply of provisions along for both man and beast. Now there are ranches and public houses dotting the entire line of travel at which accommodation for both can be readily obtained quite equaling in quality, and scarcely exceeding in price, we are assured, that afforded in the interior and more remote parts of California.

That this will all tend to cheapen living in Cariboo and render miners as well as settlers more comfortable and contented is clear enough. Men cannot think very well of a country where they have to pay from $4 to $5 a day for coarse food, and a scanty and precarious supply at that. Such a state of things naturally engenders an anxious, unsettled feeling. But when there is an abundance of cheap food, including all the luxuries usually found in older countries, men can engage in prospecting and mining with some heart.

We would ask our readers to take a glance at another feature of this subject before taking leave of it. The pursuit of agriculture, especially in the upper part of this Colony, is not only calculated to confer very great advantages upon the country and the community at large, but it cannot fail to prove highly remunerative, individually, to those engaged therein. The price of barley this season in the upper country is 50c. per lb. It was from 60c. to 75c. during last season and winter. But in order to keep within the mark suppose we estimate it at 40c. a pound, below which there is little probability of its falling for two or three seasons; for it is not unreasonable to assume that the demand will keep pace with the supply, or nearly so. Well, at 40c. then, 10 acres would produce 22,000 lbs., worth, in round figures, $9,000, while Frank Way's 150 acres would produce the astounding sum of of $134,400. It is quite unnecessary for us to enter further into figures in order to show that farming in the upper country must be a most lucrative pursuit, and that it possesses the important advantage over mining, or even merchandizing, of being much more certain. We look forward with some eagerness to the coming harvest, feeling assured it will demonstrate the correctness of our estimate both of the practicability and profitability of farming in British Columbia.

NEW WESTMINSTER, SATURDAY, MAY 23, 1863.
CAPITAL PUNISHMENT.

This morning, ere the ink will be dry upon these pages, the four Indians—or three, of them at all events, as the woman, Thask, may possibly have been reprieved—will have paid the extreme penalty of the law. The “death punishment” is doubtless just and right, especially where it operates as a deterrent. And no one who has read the details of the murder of poor Brady can be otherwise impressed than that his cowardly, treacherous murderers have met their just deserts. In cool blood they took the life of a fellow creature, and their own lives thereby became the legal forfeit.

We must confess, however, that were capital punishment confined to a mere retributive justice on account of the murdered or injured, our faith in it would be somewhat shaken. A man who with malice aforethought takes the life of another by that very act proves himself dangerous to his fellow creatures, unfit to live, and the safety of society demands that he shall be placed beyond the possibility of repeating the terrible offence against both God and man. But the infliction of capital punishment even for the crime of murder is a most serious measure; and whenever it is conclusively proved that it has not the effect of lessening capital offenses it becomes a question whether it ought to be continued.

This leads to a question which has been much discussed, and has occupied the minds of learned and experienced Jurists for many years, a discussion which has settled down in the conviction that capital punishment does operate as a deterrent, as a rule, especially when applied to civilized and Christian communities. In its application, however, to mankind in a pagan state, holding such a diversity of views as to a future state and the final destiny of man, there is still room for much argument. Those who have carefully noted the manner in which the natives of this country have submitted themselves to the executioner, and have heard their expressed feelings and sentiments regarding the ordeal, strikingly confirmed in many instances by their deportment upon the scaffold, must entertain considerable doubt as to the utility of capital punishment in its application to the Indian tribes of these Colonies. The stolid indifference with which the Indian listens to his sentence, the impatient eagerness with which he awaits the fatal hour, and the heroic calmness and fortitude with which he demeans himself upon the scaffold, even joyfully chanting his death song, all tend to show that he views the terrible ordeal to which he is about to submit with neither fear nor dislike. Indeed it would appear from the manner in which both the victim and his relatives and people seem to regard an execution that they hold it to be a sort of honorable and heroic martyrdom.

Those nice rules and discriminative distinctions which regulate the Christians' justice are unknown to the poor, untutored savage. He has a dull and indefinite instinct which leads him to revenge upon the white man any supposed wrong inflicted upon his tribe by a member of that race, caring nothing about the identity of the culprit, so that he belongs to the “pale-faced family.” Nor is he over nice as to the measure of that vengeance bearing any proportion to the turpitude of the offence. So low do they hold human life that for the most trifling infringement of a fancied right they will not hesitate to imbue their hands in the blood of a fellow creature, be his skin red or white.

In dealing with a people possessing such characteristics and sentiments it becomes a question whether some other mode of punishment should not be devised; something which would be regarded as at once a dishonor and a terror. And this subject is invested with all the greater importance in consideration of the numerous murders recently committed in these Colonies by the Indian tribes.

As we stated on Wednesday, we believe that in most instances these murders are the result of some supposed wrong. It would seem that even the introduction of the small-pox amongst the Indians by a white is held by them to be a casus belli, and, as indicated by the Bentinck intelligence published elsewhere, for no other cause innocent and unoffending whites, in some instances while in the act of showing special kindness to the Indian, are treacherously murdered in cold blood. And that this state of things will continue until the Indian tribes are brought under the healthful and benign influences of Christianity, and led to entertain more just and correct views of right and wrong, are influenced by an intelligent belief in a future state, and their personal responsibility to their Creator, there can be little doubt.

While it is the duty of the various branches of the Christian Church to double their diligence in order to bring about a change in the pagan Indians, so much to be desired for their own sake as well as for the peace of society, we think the question we have suggested above in reference to the mode of punishing these people is worthy of the careful consideration of our Government; for upon them devolves the duty of adopting and enforcing such laws as will best remove cause of complaint and hatred on the part of the Indian, and at the same time punish crime in that way which will be most likely to deter others from its commission.

Poetry.

Coming Home.

Mantled in snow, my native land, I hail thee from the sea; Cheerless to others looks the strand, But oh! how dear to me!

My fellow voyagers gaze and shrink, As blows the breeze from shore;
With rapturous pulse the air I drink,
The Northern breeze once more.

They, thinking of their Southern homes,
And of the trellised vine, Wonder from icy shores there comes Excited thought like mine.

As landmarks they thy headlands view, Bright glad to pass them by;
To me they're pictures, stern but true, That charm and cheer the eye.

They cannot see the scenes beyond, Of happy household mirth—
The skaters on the glittering pond, The children round the hearth.

They cannot hear the merry cheer Of coisters on the step;
They do not know how soundly here
The tree and happy sleep.

They cannot hear the peasant's axe Sharp ringing through the groves; Nor see the blazing fire he piles, To gladden those he loves.

The sleighs go through the crowded street Like swallows on the wing; Peech the first warm fingers meet—Hark! how the sleigh-bells ring!

There's not a sound that cleaves the air, But music has for use;
Nighly the warm hearts, beating there, Have blest me on the sea.

The stately piles, of old renown, With reverent thought I've trod, Where noble hearts have laid them down With History and with God.

The crowded mart, the busy throng—
The gay and brilliant halls;
The tramp of steeds—the voice of song—
The many pictured walls—

All are behind; but all before My active life I view;
A blessing on her sea-girl shore, Where toil the good and true.

THE DEVIL IN A RED SKIN.—We have scarcely ever heard of a piece of more diabolical ingratitude than instanced in the murder of McLeod at Bentneck Arm, the following account of which appears in the British Colonist of the 19th inst:
"McLeod was sitting at supper when an old Indian, who was on the tramp, came to his tent.
Poor Bob, with his well known hospitality, placed the best he had before the visitor, and entertained him throughout the evening, finally giving him leave to lie down in the tent with him. In the middle of the night the Indian arose, took his gun, and, standing over his sleeping host, pointed the muzzle at him, and was about to fire, when McLeod groaned in his sleep and moved uneasily. The murderer was startled, and refrained from firing, thinking his victim was about to wake. Three several times did the old savage cock his gun, and as often hesitated to fire, but seeing that McLeod still slept, he approached a fourth time, and, summoning courage, shot his unfortunate host dead. This was the account the murderer himself gave to his tribe." The same paper says of the Indians in that vicinity: "Fisher was killed by a boy under 12 years of age, who came behind and shot him through the back, killing him instantly. As soon as he saw that the man was dead, the boy ran and fetched some of his relatives, and they immediately made a large fire and burned the body, scattering the ashes afterwards in every direction. These Indians are quite deserted, and utterly reckless. They say they have lost every relative and friend by disease—they have no ties of kindred—nothing to hope for, or to make life worth the keeping, and they coolly and deliberately announce their intention of killing every white man who shall set foot upon their land. If a man-of-war is sent to capture them they consider it an honorable distinction, and the men who may be brought down here to be tried and executed enjoy the reputation of martyred saints among their countrymen."

EXTRAORDINARY CHANGE OF FORTUNE.—The Memorial de Lille has the following:—"A sudden change of fortune from an incident which has all the appearance of romance, has just occurred to a cotton spinner at Roubaix. This man aged 29, who was in the employment of M. Desrousseaux of the above town, being about to marry a young workwoman of the same establishment, had sent to Brussels for a certificate of birth, having been brought up at the Foundling hospital of that city.
Instead of the certificate asked for, the young man received a notice to call on the burgomaster of Brussels on important business, and on doing so was surprised to learn that he was the son of a Russian Prince and a young lady belonging to the Belgian aristocracy, and that a property of from eight to ten millions of francs awaited him."

THE TRAFFIC BETWEEN NEW-YORK AND SAN FRAN-CISCO.—The most earnest efforts are making to induce the Treasury Department to recede from its decision by which foreign bottoms are enabled to compete for the traffic between San Francisco and New-York; but there is no reason to believe that the conclusion, which was arrived at after careful consideration of the law, will be reversed.
On the contrary, there are arguments for the belief that an English line of steam propellers will soon be put upon one of the transit routes.—American paper.

IMPORTANT TO WILLIAMS CREEK MINERS.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the undersigned will be prepared to furnish LUMBER of all descriptions suitable for Building, Planning, Shingling, Rifles, &c., on Williams Creek and Jack of Clubs Creek, on or before the fifteenth of May, 1863, without delay, as they are erecting a Water Power Mill that will turn out from ten to fifteen thousand feet of Lumber per day.
We hope by giving this timely notice that we may secure the trade and greatly benefit those who may favor us with their patronage, as we will be prepared to furnish Lumber at greatly reduced prices, which all must recognize will be of great benefit to the business, as well as the Mining community, in a section of country where Lumber has up to the present time been sold at the enormous price of $250.00 per thousand, owing entirely to the article having to be shipped sawed and labor commanding such high prices. With the use of this Mill we hope to place all parties wanting Lumber in possession of it immediately, thereby facilitating their mining operations greatly, knowing as all do that business as well as mining has been greatly retarded, from not being able to procure Lumber when mostly needed.
And we hope with the aid of our Mill, together with the Williams Creek Ditch, which will be completed in time to furnish all with water in the Hill Claims and not interfere with the Creek Claims, also, the surplus waters of Jack of Clubs Creek and Ground Hog Lake turned over the divide into Williams Creek, will enable hundreds, if not thousands, who from the scarcity of water, without the aid of the above named ditches could not profitably do so, to work their Claims; also the great and beneficial influence which must inevitably accrue to all, both Hill and Creek Claims, from the great and costly bed-rock Flume, being at present partly constructed, for the purpose of carrying off effectually the tailings that must, with the advancement of mining on the whole Creek and hills on both sides of the Creek, naturally fill up and prove a great annoyance, owing to the scarcity of water, there not being a sufficient quantity most of the season running naturally in Williams Creek to accomplish the great work; but with the assistance of the surplus waters of Jack of Clubs and Ground Hog Lake waters flowing into Williams Creek and the great bed-rock Flume to carry everything through it, will not only prove of incalculable benefit to all, but place Williams Creek beyond the rivalry of any other mining locality in the Cariboo country.

EASE AND HEALTH TO THE SICK HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

DISEASES OF THE SKIN.

Universal approbation has been awarded to this famous Ointment for its efficiency in removing diseases of the skin. For scrofula, scurvy, scald heads, and all eruptions of the skin, both in infancy and mature years, no remedy can be applied which so quickly cures as Holloway's Ointment. In the nursery it should always be at hand to ease the many skin affections to which the majority of children are liable. In all heat and tooth rashes, the Ointment is wonderfully cooling and curative. To soldiers, sailors, miners, and travellers in foreign lands, it is invaluable.

BURNS, WOUNDS, BAD BREASTS, BAD LEGS.

In this class of maladies, an improvement in the appearance of the disease of the patient, follows the first dressing with the Ointment.

It must not only be smeared on the wound, or sore, but be briskly rubbed for some inches round about the diseased swollen or painful parts. It will penetrate to the blood vessels, arteries, and muscles, and even to the bone, and will exercise the most wholesome, healing, and purifying power over every tissue requisite for thorough reparation. The effect of the Ointment is increased by fomenting with warm water before the Ointment is rubbed in; but sores, when healing, should never be cleanse with sponge or anything else, as the young and new flesh which appears like a cream, would be washed away.

BLOOD TO THE HEAD, APOPLEXY.

Nothing gives so much ease in these complaints from which so many suffer, as Holloway's cooling and healing Ointment. When rubbed upon the spine it acts most energetically in drawing surplus blood from the brain; even to children in teething; this Ointment has a miraculous effect in preventing fits and convulsions, so often attendant on tooth-cutting. The Pills should be used according to the directions.

RHEUMATISM, GOUT, STIFF JOINTS.

Every one suffering from these painful affections should use this purifying Ointment, as it has rescued thousands from a life of torture, after every other means had been tried in vain. The Ointment should be well rubbed into the skin at least twice a day, after it has been properly fomented with warm salt water, and dried.
The inflammation soon yields, and the patient no longer helpless, resumes his accustomed occupation.

GLANDULAR SWELLINGS, BRONCHITIS, MUMPS, SORE THROAT, AND DIPHTHERIA.

To combat these diseases with success, a remedy is required which will have the whole absorbent system under its control. Such a remedy is Holloway's Ointment, when rubbed on the skin; it penetrates to the glands, and removes any obstruction or impurity which may be impeding their healthy action. This Ointment acts on the very mainspring of life, for through the glands pass all new matter required for the body's reparation; in all the above class of cases, the Ointment and Pills used conjointly will act so searching, and certainly, as to effect cures in the most deplorable cases.

FISTULAS AND PILES.

All inflammations and ulcerations of sensitive parts may be presently relieved, and ultimately cured, by the diligent use of this cooling and healing Ointment, aided twice daily by bathing the parts in cold water. Immediate ease springs from this treatment; perseverance is necessary to effect a permanent cure.

ASTHMA, SHORTNESS OF BREATH.

In these complaints the Ointment should be well rubbed twice a day upon the chest, and between the shoulders; it will penetrate to the lungs, stimulate them to renewed exertions, prevent stagnation of blood, moderate the pulsations of the heart, regulate the current of air through the bronchial tubes, and thus effect a permanent cure.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:—

Bad Legs.	Chapped Hands.	Scalds.
Bad Breasts.	Contracted and	Sore Nipples.
Burns.	Stiff Joints.	Sore-throats.
Bites of Mosquitoes	Elephantiasis.	Skin-diseases.
and Sand-Flies.	Fistulas.	Scurvy.
Coco-bay.	Gout.	Sore-heads.
Chiefo-foot.	Glandular Swel-	Tumors.
Corns (soft).	lings.	Ulcers.
